The mission of the Lebanese International University is to provide the highest possible quality of higher education, training and research, in order to meet the needs of individuals and the communities and enterprises both in Lebanon and in the whole Arab world.

Besides, the mission of the LIU is to contribute to the development of highly educated and qualified graduates who will enhance the educational, economic and cultural foundation of the nation.

Its teaching, research and service mission is characterized by equal access and equal opportunity to all who are committed to the success and contributing to the progress of their country and the advancement of culture and knowledge in general.

The Lebanese International University, as an institution for higher learning, is a career-oriented institution. While recognizing that its primary role is to serve the student, LIU, through educational functions and its broad range of modern and skills-oriented undergraduate and graduate programs, qualifies its students to assume leadership roles where they will serve their country.

In its effort to offer a superior university education for its students, LIU retains a highly qualified faculty. It aims to provide faculty members who are not only academically competent in their professional fields but are also life-long learners with a breadth of vision, a sense of civic and moral responsibility, and a devotion to the fundamental values of human life.

The University espouses and encourages freedom of thought and expression. It expects, however, that such freedom will be enjoyed in a spirit of integrity and with a full sense of responsibility.

Visa of Superiority

We, along with those who dream of a better future for this generation and generations to come, chose education and higher education as part of our project in public field from the perspective of national construction, to which we aspire. Departing from a postulate that can be concluded with the following: science is, like water and air, a right for all; for the poor before the rich, for those of limited income before the wealthy, for the countryside before the city, and for the underprivileged areas rather than areas full of universities and schools. We insist on the principle of success associated with excellence and superiority that are established by “Colloquium” the qualifying tests for practicing a profession. Colloquium is organized by the Ministry of Education and Higher Education for Pharmacy, Laboratory, and Nutrition of which the passing rate at our university was not only hundred percent, but also our graduates managed to achieve highest recognition for grades and rate. This was also confirmed by the competition in the field of work of Lebanon and the Arab countries, where LIU graduates were distinguished for their knowledge, confidence in a good performance, precision in work, planning follow-up and execution giving them the advantage and precedence in occupying the aspired positions.

Education and higher education is the head of public development and the main reference for human resources that have become the primary indication of countries’ development in the twenty first century. Therefore, we expanded the horizon of this vital field in all the branches of the university across Lebanon, the Arab world, and expatriation. We are convinced that education is the sound of reason, link between all directions, assistance to the unity of Lebanese and Arab education, and aim to usher human to a better tomorrow.

The Lebanese International University acquired its Visa of Superiority by the efforts of the faculty and administration. This dedication to giving daily and excellence in research has produced unprecedented innovations and put our university in a high ranking among prestigious universities and even preceding them. That is because our idea of a university is not limited to a curriculum and courses and how well they are implemented, but is also linked with the presence of a university atmosphere. This atmosphere is guaranteed by the existence of a research unit in each department having its academic reference in the Central Research Center both in theoretical and applied sciences. This helps academics overlook new developments, keep up with the scientific and knowledge updates, and prepare for in-depth researches in all fields, which will serve the specialty on one hand, and open new horizons for creative ideas serving the specialty on the other. In addition to that, our mission extends to the entire Arab and non-Arab world and is not just limited to Lebanon. This is accompanied by greater momentum for constructive cooperation and the opening of new faculties, as happened recently where we got accredited to the Faculty of Medicine in Senegal, as well as the agreement on postgraduate and PhD program with the Arab League and University of Cairo agreed to graduate with a doctorate degree and the Institute of Arab Research and Studies of the Arab League and with the University of Cairo.

University is a trip in the academic world, which radiates with life, making a better and attainable tomorrow.

Commencement Ceremony 2014
Graduates start to gather in the hours leading up to the ceremony
Members of the academic board

Graduates gather awaiting their march
The ceremony begins!
His Excellency Abdel Raheem Mourad, President of LIU, confers degrees to all graduates.
Valedictorian Sofia Itawi, banking and finance graduate

The night concludes with a fireworks show
Dear Graduates,

On behalf of the School of Arts and Sciences family, I sincerely congratulate and wish the best of luck to the class of 2013-2014.

This is a vital time of your life, where a crucial page is folding and new doors are to be opened in front of your future.

Your stay at the Lebanese International University was a page well written, and your graduation is proof of that. You have acquired quality education, made lifelong friends and acquaintances, and experienced fruitful times (both good and hard). With all the experience that you attained, you are ready to open the doors of opportunities. Having confidence in yourself, being proud of your achievements, and paying attention to your strengths, will definitely be reflected positively upon your future endeavors.

In the coming years, as you pursue your career or continue higher education, I kindly ask you not to forget your university, your classmates, and your professors. I encourage you to stay in touch and to keep us updated on the many accomplishments you will experience in your career and in your personal lives. As much as we are proud of you today, we will always take great pride in your achievements.

So far you have been an exceptional representative of our university, and we are sure you will keep this image.

Congratulations again and I personally wish you all the luck and happiness in your life.

I am delighted to write this letter to you at the end of the academic year 2013-2014 on the occasion of your graduation.

During this year we kept doing the essential work that we did last year, but on top of that we increased significantly the extracurricular activities and enhanced your experience of campus life. We are confident that all the students of the School of Business have felt these additional activities because many of you contributed passionately to these activities. Indeed these activities wouldn’t have been a success without your contributions. I would also like to thank our faculty, staff and in particular Department Chairs and Assistant Deans.

Many of you already have jobs and studied while working. However, the larger number of students graduate and start their journey of seeking a good job or starting their own new small business. To those students I will share the wisdom of Arthur Ashe who wrote:

“One important key to success is self-confidence. An important key to self-confidence is preparation.”

A last piece of advice: “Find out what you like doing best and get someone to pay you for doing it.”—Katherine Whitehorn.

I wish you every possible success in your new life, whether you decide to continue your studies and get an MBA or start working.

I wish you all the best.

Dear colleagues and esteemed students,
As we bring down the curtains to the end of another challenging and exciting year in the School of Education, I would like to extend my personal congratulations to our diligent graduating students, dedicated instructors and loyal staff for what they have achieved on behalf of the university during the academic year of 2013-2014.
Our students should take a moment after graduating to think about how they reached this point in life and how they can move forward, and what changes they intend to make in their own life and in the lives of others around them.
As we look to the future, we see many challenges ahead, but with the energy, enthusiasm and expertise that are a hallmark of the School of Education, everything is possible. I would like to thank each and every colleague for his/her contribution over the last year.
I wish all staff members and esteemed graduates the best of success in their endeavors. The school will always be open to receive our students for advice and consultation.
On a personal level, I am greatly honored to be among you all as a colleague.
Respectfully yours,

Dear Class of 2014,

On behalf of LIU School of Engineering family, I extend sincere congratulations and best of luck to the Class of 2014. You have been exceptional representatives of the School and the University. I have no doubt that you will continue to serve as worthy ambassadors for the School by building upon our reputation for excellence.

You have shown talent throughout your study and crowned it with your excellent projects. I call upon you to sustain the quest for creativity and innovation as they are most rewarding.

For those who choose to start their professional career, I want you to always remember to apply, in addition to the best of your skills, the ethics of the trade, since you have being endowed a responsible trust. For those who choose to continue their graduate studies at LIU, I promise you a graduate experience that will take to higher exposure in engineering education.

Regardless of choice, I wish you all the best in your future endeavor.

“You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself any direction you choose.”
- Dr. Seuss, Oh, the Places You’ll Go!
Sincerely,

Dr. Amin Haj Ali

Dear graduates,

Your journey of life has just started after all the hard work, sad times, happy memories, and painful exams that you had passed through. All of these are now behind you, and you are well prepared to launch your pathway in society. Your mission as pharmacists is to take care of and optimize the wellbeing of your patients. In the school of pharmacy, we tried our best to make sure that you are someone who can be trusted, and knowledgeable and skilled to take care of our health.

The pharmacy profession is continually developing where new advances in drug therapy and techniques in patients’ care are being discovered and applied. The school of pharmacy at LIU, and in corporation with the Lebanese Order of Pharmacists, has started the Continuing Education (CE) Program to keep registered and practicing pharmacist up to date and aware of the new advances in the profession. These lectures and seminars will be held in all LIU campuses in all regions of Lebanon for you and for you colleagues.

Finally, my message to you is to reflect the good image of your university in professional and ethical manners.
